Key Insights

A company's IT is amongst the most critical factors in driving an organisation to achieve its goals. Due to this the health of IT must be amongst the highest priorities for any business looking to grow and succeed.

Health Check benefits:

- Identify and reduce risk
- Refine IT environments
- Gain valuable IP
- Generate strategies

An introduction to IT Health Checks from ITConsult.

With technology and the business environment developing rapidly, regular health checks on your IT systems are essential, especially if your business is growing or changing. We believe the adage that prevention is always better than the cure, that's why ITConsult IT Health Checks ensure any potential issues are dealt with before they become serious problems.

ITConsult provides a comprehensive review of your existing infrastructure and will identify any weak links in your setup. This includes:

- Checking backups to make sure valuable corporate data is safe
- Server and networking configurations
- Current storage environment

These areas are reviewed each month by the same consultant who, as a result of continued exposure, will develop an deep understanding of your environment not achieved with competitors services.

Our team of specialists can then, if required help you resolve any issues and maximise performance through our professional services portfolio* to ensure your business continues to run smoothly.

When should I be using the IT Health Check service?

A Health check is a good idea for any company that recognises the importance of robust, efficient and performance driven IT environments.

Organisations that are growing or have growth plans will benefit immensely from healthy IT that can facilitate and drive growth. Organisations in a state of change will also benefit, where IT requirements today may not be the same as when the hardware was configured resulting in inefficient and misplaced resources.

Health checks are also beneficial for organisations in the months leading up to infrastructure refresh projects. Identifying under utilised, high risk or out dated points within the IT environment allowing the next generation of IT infrastructure to be purchased with a clearer understanding of the requirements, stresses and strains placed on the various aspects of IT.

The benefits of ITConsult's IT Health Check service?

ITConsult seeks to introduce innovation to the IT environments we encounter through applying lean IT practices; we achieve this by identifying efficiency and high value strategic opportunities. Our approach is then to share best practice freely to clients as it emerges from our research, benchmarking activities and service delivery. This introduces valuable and permanent corporate IP that will continue providing benefits long after ITConsults engagement has been completed.

Our risk based approach to service delivery constantly seeks to focus resources at top priorities and keep the level of investment in services at a practical level. As we see recommendations being actioned and risks and performance issues reducing, we are able to dynamically advise clients to refocus resources to new priorities or safely reduce the level of resources allocated to individual areas. The potential result can be dramatic cost savings, and more efficient usage of valuable IT resources.

The largest benefit may in fact not be seen, as IT issues are identified early before they can become time consuming headaches that are deeply intertwined within the IT environment and are difficult, and ultimately costly to fix. It's a case of a stitch in time saving nine.

Additionally the monthly targeted nature of the service means resources are not wasted during quieter periods and organisations are only spending resources when needed, making the services extremely cost effective and easily forecastable.
